

OUR COASTLINE

Official Newsletter of the Unitarian Coastal Fellowship
Morehead City, NC

Dear Beloveds,

In the next few months, we are going to talk a lot about going into Search.

A few of us may remember going into Search here at the Unitarian Coastal Fellowship years ago; the Search that eventually brought Rev. Sally B. White to this congregation. A few may also have been in Search at other congregations. Many more may have no idea what to expect, especially those who are new to this congregation and to this faith.

In Unitarian Universalism, each congregation makes its own decision about who to call as their minister, whether that minister is full time or part time, how much that minister is paid, so on and so forth. The Unitarian Universalist Association provides the infrastructure for that Search: they have staff available to answer questions, provide recommended pay scales, and host a "Jobs Board" where congregations and ministers post their records. It is the responsibility of the congregation to put together a Search Committee, write a Congregational Record (a lengthy profile of the congregation), and have an idea of what the congregation is looking for in a new minister.

Search season generally runs from January through May. In January, ministers begin looking at congregational records, and Search Committees begin receiving applications from ministers. From January through March, the Search Committee interviews applicants (and will fly a couple of them out to meet with in person). In April or May, if a Candidate is found, there is then a Candidating Week: a full week of committee meetings and meet-and-greets with the Candidate, culminating in a congregational vote to determine whether or not to call this Candidate as Settled Minister.

There are other ways of acquiring a minister—hiring one on contract, for instance. In that instance, the contract can be renewed if both parties are satisfied; if one or both parties are dissatisfied, then the contract is not renewed and the search for a new contract minister begins. Less romantic than the full vote-and-call process, perhaps, and in some cases more practical—hiring a contract minister is a less expensive process than hosting a Candidating Week. And there are other, in-between options, such as doing a contract-to-call...

UCF's financial capacity, the type of minister UCF needs and wants, when to call that minister...these are all decisions UCF leadership is grappling with right now. And that means UCF leadership needs to hear from you! We know that you have high faith and trust in UCF's leadership, and one of our principles is promoting the democratic process. That means everyone has a voice, and that decisions here are made collectively, not just by an elite few.

In the coming months, you should expect to see some Coffee With the Boards, listening circles, perhaps even an old-fashioned survey...all with the goal of learning what you think is important and what direction the congregation should go in.

You built this church. Now let's bring it to life.

Faithfully,
~Rev. Micah C. Ma

October

Worship Services

Sundays at 10:30AM
on Zoom AND in-person
Zoom link is provided in each Friday
edition of The Wave

October 2: Blessing of the Animals

For the Feast of St. Francis, we bless our animal companions on this day! All are invited to bring their (well-behaved and appropriately vaccinated) pets to church on this day, whether they be furry, scaly, or feathered, for celebration and blessing. If your pet would rather attend virtually, we invite you to send a photo of your pet to mma@ucfnc.org for inclusion in the slideshow.

October 9: Come Out, Come Out, Whoever You Are

We all “come out” at some point or other in our lives. Some of us have had to “come out” about the way we voted in a past election; some of us have had to “come out” as Unitarian Universalists; some of us have done the traditional old-fashioned “coming out” as LGBTQ+. All of us long to be seen, accepted, and celebrated as our true, authentic selves. Today, we celebrate and also acknowledge the challenges of building an authentic, inclusive community—and after the service, we’ll be discussing an opportunity to show our inclusiveness to the community outside of our walls by hanging a Progress Flag!

October 16: A Chosen Faith

Unitarian Universalism is also known as the “chosen faith.” We are here because we choose to be here: not because we are threatened with eternal damnation; and not because we were born into this faith and must remain within it for the rest of our days. And there is power in what Unitarian theologian James Luther Adams called the “voluntary association.” In this service, we will learn about Adams’ “conversion” experience in Germany and how modern Unitarian Universalism is founded on his ideas of the voluntary association.

October 23: Homecoming

Come home! Come home, all ye who wander, come home! We extend a special welcome to those who have never been through our doors and those we miss, who have not been back in a long while. All are welcome for a special day of singing, reminiscing about the past, looking forward to the future, and a potluck lunch afterward!

October 30: Samhain

Samhain (pronounced Sow-en) is a thousand-year-old Gaelic holiday, also called the Celtic New Year. It is observed in many cultures and with a myriad of rituals. Samhain is a festival marking the end of the harvest and beginning of winter. It sometimes covers 3 days from October 31-November 2, and it may be related to All Saints Day, All Souls Day, and Halloween. We will examine several traditions honoring the dead souls as they return to bless their loved ones. Worship Associates are Mary Anna Newman, Linda Rudd, and Tom Wentworth.

President's Column

What's next for Unitarian Coastal Fellowship?

Every week, Rev. Micah announces that they are the Interim Minister at Unitarian Coastal Fellowship and that means that there is a time coming when the Interim Ministry will end. What does the Unitarian Coastal Fellowship need to do to be ready to take the next steps? The great economist George Stigler said that "A transition period is a period between two transition periods." That certainly seems to apply to UCF right now!

By the end of December, 2022, decisions will need to be made about what we will do next. Some work is being done now by the UCF Board, the UCF Transition Team, and Rev. Ma that will provide some help in making those decisions.

The UCF Treasurer, David Hughes, and the Finance Committee are working with Ruth Lillian, a volunteer Compensation Consultant with the Unitarian Universalist Association Office of Church Staff Finance, to look at UCF's financial health, and especially our ability to compensate staff, and to plan our future budgets. The Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA) will be releasing new compensation guidelines for ministers and staff this fall. The analysis will help UCF decide the compensation level we can best afford, and whether UCF can afford full-time ministry or if part-time ministry is better suited to our financial ability.

At least 20 Unitarian Universalist congregations who were in search for ministers this year did not find ministers. I'm sure that there are many reasons this happened, but what can UCF do to be sure that we are able to attract the minister we want in 2022-2023 or in 2023-2024 whether that is an interim, a contract minister, or a settled minister? Ministers looking for positions shop for congregations who know who they are, who they want to be, and who have a good financial status. UCF will prepare a congregational record for potential ministerial candidates to review. It will contain information about our congregation; our vision and goals; our financial health; proposed and historical budgets, debts, and compensation. Potential candidates will also want to know about the community including our beautiful environment, schools, community activities and resources.

Some questions that need to be answered are: What does UCF do well? What does this congregation want to do better? What do we like about UCF? What needs to change? Can we meet our dreams financially? What kind of ministry does UCF need now? Please join the conversations over the next weeks and months as UCF examines its mission and vision and its abilities to make the mission and vision come to life in its future ministry with the help of our Transition Team and our Interim, Rev. Micah Ma.

Coffee With The Board

Coffee with the Board after the service on October 23 to discuss our progress in the interim ministry and planning for next steps with professional ministry.

This will be the first of a series of 2 Coffees with the Board.

The second will be on November 13.

COVID Policy Update

The UCF Board of Trustees has revised the COVID policy and, effective 9/9/22, UCF will be mask-optional for all functions, including the Building Dedication on 9/10/22, worship services, choir rehearsals. All attendees are encouraged to be vaccinated and boosted. If you exhibit any symptoms of COVID, please stay home. If you test positive for COVID within 3 days of attendance at a meeting, please continue to notify Office Assistant, Jamie DeRose, at jderose@ucfnc.org.

UCF Board of Trustees Profiles—Tom Wentworth, Vice President

Tom Wentworth retired from NC State University in the fall of 2018, becoming Professor Emeritus in the Department of Plant and Microbial Biology, where he taught for over forty-two years. He holds a BA degree in biology from Dartmouth College and a PhD degree in plant ecology from Cornell University. Tom has shared his knowledge of the flora and vegetation of the southeast with thousands of students through field trips for his ecology courses at NC State and for field courses offered through the Highlands Biological Station. With Dr. Stephanie Jeffries, he is co-author of Exploring Southern Appalachian Forests: An Ecological Guide to 30 Great Hikes in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, and Virginia (University of North Carolina Press, 2014). Tom has served in many professional service capacities, and he recently collaborated with a diverse group of plant scientists to create the Plant Science Decadal Vision 2020-2030, with the goal of “Reimagining Plants for a Sustainable Future.”

Tom and his wife, Linda Rudd, are longtime Unitarian Universalists. Both retain their memberships in the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Raleigh (UUFR), where they first met in the UUFR Choir. Rev. Morris Hudgins, former minister of UUFR, married them on Halloween in 1992, so they have a big wedding anniversary coming up! When Tom retired in 2018, he and Linda began spending much of their time in Beaufort in the cottage they had purchased a couple of years earlier. As Crystal Coast residents, they became increasingly engaged in the Unitarian Coastal Fellowship, where they enjoyed the friendly and caring community as well as Rev. Sally White’s sermons. In the fall of 2019, they joined UCF, signing the membership book just as COVID-19 descended on the planet. Since joining UCF, Tom has been an active member of Green Sanctuary, leading frequent nature hikes for the UCF members and friends. Tom also serves on the Worship and Staffing Committees; he has been involved in decisions about landscaping on the Bridges Street UCF campus, and he is a member of the Common Grounds Task Force. As Vice President, Tom looks forward to becoming more involved in the governance of UCF, helping to guide UCF as it transitions to a new home and a more prominent role in the community.

A Message from the Treasurer

Now that we are settled into our new campus, let's see where we stand financially. The table below lists the sources and amounts of revenue raised for the renovation of the Sally B. White Center and all costs associated with the building of our new sanctuary. Through the incredible generosity of the members and friends of this congregation, we have raised $835,379.09 (including the endowment).

Capital Campaign	$437,790.65
Building Bridges Campaign	$211,262.81
Eco-Angel Donation	$12,000.00
Endowment	$146,668.99
Chair Donations	$27,656.64
Evans Street Sale	$250,870.00
EV Charging Grant	$8,000.00
NC Sales Tax Refund	$12,540.27
NC Sales Tax Refund (Pending)	$5,600.00
TOTAL	$1,112,389.36

We took a draw from our Construction Line of Credit (LOC) of $25,000.00 on 8/22/22 to cover a temporary shortfall and paid back $12,000.00 on 8/30/22. We are expecting a sales tax refund of $5600. That refund along with the balance of $3616.38 in the building fund gives us a total of $9216.38 in available building funds. There will be one remaining bill for A/V equipment and installation of approximately $4500 and $560 for the UV air purifier. The remaining funds (approx. $4156) will be used to pay down the remaining balance of the LOC ($13,062.49). So, when all is said and done, we will owe the bank $8906.49. We would like to be able to pay off the LOC before December 31st when the balance must be converted to a business loan at a higher interest rate. Assistance in the form of loans or donations will be appreciated. We will also have to repay the Endowment Fund $125,299.83.

Update on the 8th Principle from the Racial Justice Group

“We, the member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association, covenant to affirm and promote: journeying toward spiritual wholeness by working to build a diverse multicultural Beloved Community by our actions that accountably dismantle racism and other oppressions in ourselves and our institutions.”

The Unitarian Coastal Fellowship is moving towards voting on adoption of the above UU 8th Principle at our Annual Meeting in June of 2023. The Racial Justice Group met on Aug 18 and decided on a timeline for our actions in the next year. This group is open to suggestions from the entire congregation, and anyone is welcome to attend our next meeting which will be in person at the church on October 27 at 4PM. This will be a conversation about race vs. culture and what it means to be “white” plus a check-in on the Get Out the Vote work we will be doing prior to the November 8th election.

Twenty people have signed up for the six sessions of the “Trans Inclusion in Congregations” class currently offered on Wednesday evenings until October 12. This class includes much more than just looking at gender and focuses on creating a “Beloved Community” in our congregation.

The adoption of the 8th Principle will be discussed at the annual retreat for the UCF BoT and Leadership Council in late September. Both governing bodies have already approved moving forward with anti-racism education and advocacy in the following year. Starting in January there will be a regular column in the Coastline about what it means to make the 8th principle an integral part of the fabric of our congregation.

The books we have read during the Anti-Racism Reading Group (ARRG) will be available in the UCF Library for all to read at your leisure. Sally Davis has compiled a list of the most highly recommended books that ARRG has read and published that list in last month’s Coastline and HERE on the UCF website. The next ARRG meeting will be on November 17. All are welcome to participate in our discussion of The Fire This Time. Sally Davis can provide you with more information.

In February, which is “Black History Month”, we will show three videos over three weeks in the Fellowship Hall which will be open to the public. At the last video there will be a panel discussion about Racial Justice and how it fits into our church, our local community, and our world. If you would like to help in planning these video events, please contact Susan Roberts or Penny Hooper. We will also help with the MLK Celebration at the Civic Center again in 2023 as we have been doing for more than 20 years. Look for opportunities to “stretch” yourself with this topic, as we post them on the bulletin board and as Barb Thomas sends out the weekly bulletin from the UU Justice Ministry of NC.

Forward Together!

UCF Fall Nature Walk – Tideland National Recreation Trail

UCF's Green Sanctuary and Adult RE Committees are pleased to announce a second fall nature walk, led by botanist and UCF member Tom Wentworth on Saturday, October 15, 2022. We'll hike the Tideland National Recreation Trail from the Cedar Point Campground in the Croatan National Forest. This is about a 45-minute drive from either Jacksonville or the MHC/Beaufort area, but quite close to Cedar Point, Swansboro, Cape Carteret, and Emerald Isle. The hike will begin at 1:30 PM and take about 2 hours, depending on how often we stop. The easy 1.4 mi loop trail traverses salt marshes (on elevated boardwalks) and forested areas, skirting the edge of the White Oak River Estuary. Please wear comfortable closed-toe shoes, and otherwise dress for the weather. Recommended comfort items include a water bottle, light snack, sunscreen, insect repellent, hat, and sunglasses. If you enjoy birdwatching and photography, don't forget to bring your binoculars and camera. A light daypack is recommended for carrying all your "stuff." This trip is limited to 15 people, and you must pre-register for the trip, first come, first served. Please contact Tom Wentworth if you wish to participate, or if you have questions about the trip, at tom_wentworth@ncsu.edu (twentwo@ncsu.edu also works). Tom will provide more information about the meeting location, liability waiver, etc. Please join us for a fun experience at a unique and beautiful natural area!

October 9—Congregational Conversation after Worship Service

Please join us after the Worship Service on October 9 to discuss the meaning of the Progress Flag and the significance of UCF displaying this flag on our campus. This discussion will include how the Progress Flag reflects our UU values and the importance of this visual symbol of support and love.

October 5th Sunday Collection: Holiday Giving

At UCF, whenever there is a month with five Sundays, we collect donations for a charity during that month and all plate contributions on the 5th Sunday that are not designated as pledge money go to that cause as well. October is a month with five Sundays and the special collection this month will be for our Holiday Giving projects.

For many years now, Unitarian Coastal Fellowship has given generously at holiday time to those in our community who are often left out at this season. During the last two Holiday seasons, we have been very limited in how we can interact with these groups due to COVID, but we still were able to give everyone the gifts. This year we hope to resume more in person contact with the groups mentioned below.

There are three holiday traditions that we have established:

We put together Holiday Gift Bags containing gift cards ($20 or $25) and items hand-made by the Twisted Sisters needlecraft group and give them to those at Hope Mission's Homeless Shelter and Recovery Homes and to clients of Beach House, a program for adults with severe and persistent mental illness

We also adopt children from the Angel Tree through Project Christmas Cheer. These are children whose parents can't afford to give them much for the holidays. Those selected are vetted by Carteret County Social Services. Our children and youth shop for these Angel children, wrap the presents and have a pizza party.

We also bring gift bags with handmade hats, scarves, etc to the clients of Empower (formerly Station Club) – our neighbors on Church Street. Empower is a program that provides vocational training for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Before the pandemic, we held an annual Caroling Party for the Station Club but we haven't been able to do that for the last two years. Hopefully we will be able to reinstate the Caroling Party this year.

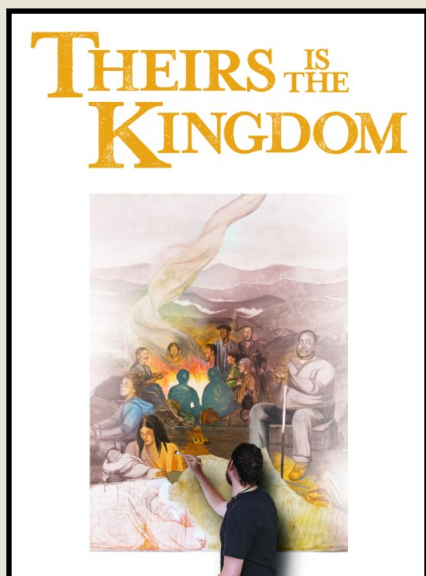

Please give generously during the month of October to help us fund our holiday giving. You can write a check to UCF and put 5th Sunday in the memo line. You can either put that check in the collection plate or mail it to David Hughes, Treasurer, UCF, PO Box 425, Morehead City 28557. You can also donate through your Breeze account or on Paypal on the UCF website, <https://ucfnc.org/>. Again, be sure to select 5th Sunday if you give online.

On October 30th (the 5th Sunday in October) all cash donations in the collection plate that are not marked as a pledge, will also go to the 5th Sunday collection for Holiday Giving.

AARG/Adult SE

The documentary “Theirs Is the Kingdom” will be shown on November 2 at the church. The film explores the intersection of poverty and art, and the challenges of homelessness, addiction, and mental illness, while a fresco mural is created and displayed in the sanctuary of a small church in Asheville, NC. For more information contact Harriet Altman.

Energy is the engine that powers life and fuels the evolution of human civilization. To better put into perspective the various issues surrounding energy in the 21st century, we need to understand the essential science behind how energy works. Award-winning professor and expert geophysicist Michael E. Wyssession of Washington University in St. Louis has developed The Science of Energy: Resources and Power Explained, which presents an unbiased investigation into the energy sources that power our world. Vividly illustrated with animations, 3-D graphics, graphs, in-studio demonstrations, and other visuals that make scientific and mathematical concepts approachable and understandable, The Science of Energy is a marvelous window into the inner workings of energy that will keep you constantly engaged. Landon Elswick will present this program for UCF in late October or early November, starting date to be announced. This 6-session program is a continuation of the presentation he began prior to the COVID pandemic. The sessions will probably be presented every other week on a Wednesday evening; watch The Wave during October for details.

Green Tip:

You can make a tasty dinner of salmon or shrimp kabobs, or a nice swordfish steak with a side of roasted veggies. But how do you know if your seafood is sustainably sourced? It can be challenging to make good choices for both dinner and the planet, but things are improving. These days, for example, line-caught sustainably harvested canned tuna is available and labelled in most grocery stores; you just have to spend a little time perusing the aisle. The Monterey Bay Aquarium periodically publishes lists of the most sustainable seafood choices (<https://www.montereybayaquarium.org/act-for-the-ocean/sustainable-seafood/what-you-can-do>), and of course, buying local seafood is always a great choice for freshness and sustainability -- we're lucky to have that option here on the Carolina coast!

Women's Discussion Group

The Women's Discussion Group will be meeting on Monday, October 10 at 12:30PM. If the weather cooperates, we will picnic and chat in Pat Harms' beautiful backyard by Calico Creek.

Our topic will be quite fitting for October: What are your silliest fears?

I look forward to sharing with you all. Bring your lunch and a chair and I'll see you there.

If you would like more information about the Women's Discussion Group or would like to be added to our email list, contact Susan Roberts at landfall2@mindspring.com or 843-217-1885.

Mental Health Family Support Group

The Mental Health Family Support Group is an opportunity to share experiences and challenges of having family members or friends who live with mental illness. Meetings are being held on Zoom on Wednesday afternoons from 2:00 to 3:30. If you would like to join these meetings or would like more information, please contact Susan Roberts at 843-217-1885 or at landfall2@mindspring.com

UCF Book Club

The October 2022 UCF Book Club will be discussing the book The Water Dancer by Ta-Nehisi Coates. This story, set in the pre Civil War South, is about a super human protagonist named Hiram Walker who possesses a photographic memory which he uses to help transport his enslaved people to freedom. Please join us on Monday, October 17 at 4PM to talk about this wonderful novel.

UPDATE ON OUR UCF VOTER ACTIVITIES!

UU THE VOTE Postcard Campaign

You may recall in the last newsletter, that UCF committed to write 1000 Get Out the Vote postcards – 50 kits with 20 postcards in each! Of course, you all came through, as we knew you would, and all have been spoken for, and distributed, and will be ready to mail October 13! This is part of the “Reclaim the Vote” project, a non-partisan effort that targets voters of color which has been very successful in the past! THANKS TO ALL OF YOU!

VOTER REGISTRATION at Carteret Community College

Once again, UCF co-sponsored this annual event that is organized by the League of Women Voters of Carteret County. It was held from September 19 through September 22. Our role is to help provide volunteers to register voters at three different locations at the college. It was a very successful event, and we had 6 volunteers from UCF that assisted with registering 50 new voters!
